

ILLS OF MEXICO ARE DIAGNOSED.

"Observer" Tells What He Thinks About It.

Blames Present Situation to Past Neglect.

Says United States Must Solve the Problem.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, Bureau of the Times, Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The following is the second of a series of articles on the Mexican situation written by the Chicago Tribune's staff correspondent "Observer," who has just returned from Mexico:

BY OBSERVER.
The American people and their government find themselves at the present time embarrassed by the Mexican situation. They feel that on the whole they are not responsible, yet are being forced into a position in which they must accept the maximum responsibility, the maximum of trouble and the minimum of credit no matter what their actions may be.

All this may be perfectly true, but it is only the position in which all the great powers find themselves from time to time. The United States is now one of the great powers of the world and has got to accept, meet squarely face to face and solve such problems as arise.

The people of the country have got to realize, whether they wish to or not, that the day is passed when they could content themselves with the discussion of railway rates, the tariff and the high cost of living, while remaining ignorant and indifferent to foreign affairs.

THE WORLD DIVISIONS.
The world may be roughly divided into two kinds of territory. First is that possessed by the civilized races rapidly pushing ahead in every way and driven by necessity to seek expansion or territorial or commercial empire.

Second, is that territory inhabited by the backward or less developed races content in most cases until recently with things as they are.

Inevitably the people of the civilized races have entered the territory of the less civilized for commercial reasons if for no other.

In some cases this has resulted in the lesser civilized, while making an effort to advance themselves, coming to fear the loss of their independence and therefore making an effort to drive out the foreigners. This is many examples of this in Africa.

In other cases the government, or a part of the population of the lesser civilized, seeing the advantages of civilization make an effort to bring their own people to a higher standard.

Generally coupled with this is a dislike or hatred of the foreigner because of the great advantages which his material superiority, coming even though residing in a foreign country, the greater this superiority the stronger his government and the more he usurps control from the native, threatens the independence of the country.

If the advanced government of the advanced portion of the population is strong enough to enforce its will then independence will suffer, due to the people gradually brought to the state of civilization. If they are not, continued struggles between the progressive and retrogressive elements will take place. During these struggles the foreigner and his property inevitably will suffer, due to the hatred which one or both sides will have for him because of their fear of ultimate domination by his country.

In Japan the government soon saw the necessity to keep foreigners from gaining control and that the only means of doing so was to make Japan a modern state.

In China considerable sections of the people, exasperated by the medieval methods of their government in domestic affairs and its failure to protect them from foreign aggression, overthrew it. They are now endeavoring to establish a modern government.

THE MEXICO SITUATION.
Mexico is one of the lesser civilized countries. To her north, as a neighbor along a long, easily crossed frontier, is the United States, one of the most highly civilized countries. It was inevitable that Americans and American capital should enter Mexico where there were such brilliant opportunities. English, Germans, French and Spaniards were also attracted and have built up businesses for themselves.

Under the Diaz regime foreigners and foreign capital were encouraged to enter. This entry developed Mexico and enriched her, while the presence of the foreigner with his higher standard of living and fairer treatment of his employees, inevitably raised the Mexican.

Had Porfirio Diaz in reality done what it was claimed he was doing, gradually led his people along the path of civilization, given them slowly more and more power as they developed, Mexico today might be at peace under a reasonably strong, reasonably democratic government. However, he and his party did nothing of the kind.

The strong movement which is absolutely essential among a largely ignorant, semi-barbarous people, such as the Mexicans, was used merely as a means of enriching Diaz and his associates. As time went on and large numbers of Mexicans, honest, justice, truthfulness, bravery, through contact with foreigners and their ways, became increasingly discontented with conditions as they were, the government of Diaz became more tyrannical and more unjust.

If the influence of the foreigner had reacted on all Mexicans throughout Mexico, if sufficient time had elapsed to have built up a large middle class, then, when the inevitable outbreak came the world might have witnessed the spectacle of the overthrow of what was virtually an absolute monarchy by a people determined to establish a democracy. However, the Mexican problem is not as simple as that, particularly as it stands at present.

Taking the people themselves, a large proportion are of pure Indian descent. Ignorant, cruelly barbarous and accustomed to tyranny before the advent of the Spaniard, the many years of his rule served only to increase these characteristics, not to lessen them. Since Mexico has been independent her history has been such as to only strengthen in each generation the defects of the preceding one.

Uncle Sam's Soldiers Guarding the Frontier.

U.S. Troops at El Paso.

Unloading equipment.

Every-day scenes on the border.

In the upper panel is shown a typical group of United States troops near El Paso, while in the lower panel is shown the unloading of equipment, a familiar sight to people along the Rio Grande, owing to the strained Mexican situation.

of a people just emerging from a barbarous struggle with the Moors. This blood flowing in the mixed blood in his veins has served to degenerate rather than to save the defects inherited from his Indian ancestors.

The comparatively few people in Mexico who have any opportunity for a real education belong to the small rich upper class, who own the greater part of the real estate in Mexico. Boasting of their Spanish blood, they are more aristocratic in their ideas and tendencies than the most aristocratic, on the whole, of the narrow-minded Spanish race. They have every interest in the maintenance of the old regime. They tend now and have always tended towards monarchy.

There is a small middle class in Mexico. They are not united, however, in these tendencies, and are inconsiderable in number. The Spanish Roman Catholic Church family established itself in Mexico. At one time it virtually controlled the country. Benito Juarez, with his laws of reform, practically deprived it of power. Since then this party, always rich, has striven with greater or less success to negative these laws.

No situation in which they are not considered has been completely dealt with. The army in Mexico has to be considered as a thing apart from the rest of the country, not as in the United States, as a body of citizens serving their country, but retaining their individual identity. The states who control the army in Mexico control a large portion of the country. It is not a question of the upholding of the Constitution as they have sworn to do, but merely a question of the leader, and above all of what they are going to get out of it.

THE PRESS IS MUZZLED.
The press under Porfirio Diaz was not free to publish what it saw fit. Today it is practically under absolute government control and not only cannot print news unfavorable to the government, but prints columns favorable to it which have no basis in fact whatever. The Mexican Herald, a paper published in English, can no more be relied upon than the Mexican ones.

The press is largely responsible for the prevalent anti-Americanism. It lessens or increases its attacks as the government directs. Americans and other foreigners who live and have interests in Mexico, largely influence the situation. Formerly this through their governments, others by the support, moral or real, which they lend the various factions. Men of the type of Ambassador Wilson, who criticizes and abuse their own government and its efforts to straighten out affairs, do incalculable harm, as their utterances are eagerly seized upon by the Mexican officials and papers to prove that the American people are not back of the government in its refusal to recognize Huerta.

Foreigners and Mexicans interested in big concessions and other big business deals which will not always stand the light of day have played and are still playing a large part in Mexican affairs. Most important of all is the Mexican character and its fundamental differences to the American character. In the United States there has been and is a persistent effort to teach honesty, justice, truthfulness, bravery,

FAIR BALLOT NEEDED.
The other opinion is that all which is necessary to establish a just, firm democracy among any people is to give them a fair ballot. This view is more often held by those who, having lived only among northern races capable of self government, see no reason why every native of the earth should be excluded by and trained in a different way. While it is to be hoped, and it is believed that the hopelessness of the anti opinion is entirely erroneous, it is undoubtedly true that the second opinion does not work out in practice.

The white races which enjoy self government reached it by a slow development which is still going on. A race which is inferior, due to a later start, had climatic conditions hereditary, or any other cause can no more succeed in setting up and controlling a full-fledged democracy than a child who has had no training can successfully run a locomotive. Just as a child, to be a good and successful citizen, must be carefully educated and gradually introduced to the duties and responsibilities of a man, so does an inferior race have to be carefully educated and gradually introduced to the duties of democracy. If it is unable to develop itself, some other nation must do the educating.

The Mexican problem is but a variation of the Philippine, Porto Rican and Cuban problems. It is but a variation of the Caribbean Central American, Colombian and Venezuelan problems, which have not yet become as insistent as they will later. We like to flatter ourselves that the Cuban question is settled. The truth is that the Platt amendment is the only guarantee of order in Cuba. With every wish for the success of the Mexican government, it cannot be conceded that that success is preposterous.

By giving the Philippines self government than they were capable of we have produced a bad case of Indian self government, a bad case of self government in disorders of varied kinds. The Mexican problem has to be solved and the United States has to solve it. We are strong enough, powerful enough and should be just enough to shoulder our own responsibilities and settle the matter without asking or permitting European or Pan-American help.

The truth must be looked squarely in the face and acted upon, whether it pleases us or not. TO ATTACK CHIHUAHUA.
Villa Will Send a Thousand Soldiers to Make a Second Attempt on That City.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
EL PASO, (Tex.), Nov. 19.—A thousand rebel soldiers now in Juarez will leave for the south Thursday morning to join others of the Villa command north of Chihuahua City, presumably to make a second attempt upon the State capital. No more of the rebels are to be brought to Juarez. Villa believes that with this reinforcement he can now keep his investing army supplied with food and ammunition from the border. Shortage of these, he declares, caused his failure to take Chihuahua in his first attack.

HALE'S MISSION ENDS IN FIASCO.

Carranza's Pride Hurt, He Goes to Magdalena.

Will Continue Revolution,
Disregarding Wilson.

Says Plan Is Perfected to Take City of Mexico.

NOGALES (Ariz.), Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the delicate diplomatic mission undertaken by Dr. William Bayard Hale with a view of bringing about a practical understanding between the Washington authorities and the Constitutionalists in the field, has ended in failure was manifested this afternoon, when Gen. Carranza and his staff suddenly left for Hermosillo, leaving Dr. Hale to get out of town with the best grace possible.

Subsequent events tended to show that the personal representative of President Wilson realized that his efforts had been in vain and that he intended to leave in haste. The fact that his personal effects were placed aboard a north-bound train. Just as the train was pulling out for Tucson Dr. Hale ordered his baggage removed to the station, apparently as the result of a message received from Washington.

Both Dr. Hale and Minister Escudero refused to make any statement, but word was passed among the Constitutionalists that Gen. Carranza had become tired of assumed with unofficial envoys and that if the American government desired to communicate with the revolutionary chiefs in the future Gen. Carranza and his provisional government would have to be recognized in a formal manner.

At a dinner given in honor of Gen. Carranza previous to his departure for Hermosillo, the announcement was made that the Constitutionalists no longer deemed the removal of the embargo on arms as essential to a complete triumph.

LEADER'S PRIDE WOUNDED.
Rather than close the last loophole on the part of the Washington authorities was made perfectly plain to all present. In private it was said that the Constitutionalists were neither handily or children who should be chided for carrying on a warfare or destroying their enemies and that the parental time assumed by the American representative had wounded the pride of the leaders.

In private it was said that the Constitutionalists were neither handily or children who should be chided for carrying on a warfare or destroying their enemies and that the parental time assumed by the American representative had wounded the pride of the leaders.

HALE LEAVES NOGALES.
Hale left Nogales at a late hour tonight, and it is believed that he returned to Tucson. Escudero and Bonilla, however, were not aware of his departure until after he had left.

Concerning Escudero's statement last night as to the demand for Hale's credentials, a totally different state of affairs became apparent today, proving the truth of Hale's assertion that he must have misunderstood Mr. Escudero, for that is a complete misrepresentation of what occurred today.

The question of credentials was a mere subterfuge to cover Carranza's unwillingness to answer certain questions proposed by President Wilson. Carranza had evaded them and then absented himself from two conferences on flimsy excuses. Hale declined to continue without Carranza. Thereupon his Cabinet ministers asked Hale to reduce President Wilson's questions to writing and submit them through Escudero, promising they would be debated before a full Cabinet and a written answer returned.

HALE DEMANDS ANSWER.
Hale is understood to have replied to this suggestion that it was plainly a play for delay. Hale made it clear to them that he expected to do business directly and deal frankly face to face with Carranza. He demanded an authoritative and immediate answer to the American President's inquiries.

The Constitutionalists leaders carried the American ultimatum to their chief, and then invented, it is said, the story of the demand for Hale's credentials in order to explain the delay.

Escudero's story last night dwelt on the informality of the conference between the American representative and the Carranzistas, but it was today learned that Hale had difficulty in discrediting the Constitutionalists' government from receiving him in state in the municipal hall, attended by all the formalities of court.

BRITISH CRUISER SQUADRON
ORDERED TO VERA CRUZ.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]
LONDON, Nov. 19.—Great Britain sent warships to Mexican waters from Barbados in order to protect British subjects, should the necessity arise, it was stated here today.

PEREMPTORY ORDERS.
BRIDGETOWN (Barbados) Nov. 19.—The British cruiser squadron in West Indian waters last night received a peremptory order to proceed to Vera Cruz and the vessels sailed at midnight.

The British cruiser squadron consists of three armed cruisers, Suffolk, Lancaster and Berwick, and is commanded by Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock. His flagship is the Suffolk.

The three cruisers are of the same type, displacing 9,000 tons each. They each carry an armament of fourteen six-inch, eight twelve-pounder, and three six-pounder guns.

OF THE DIPLOMATIC GAME

of the diplomatic game seems to be no doubt, and the orders given today prove that the war in Mexico is not a mere military movement, but a political one. The plan of campaign is to take the city of Guaymas and an offensive movement along the west coast ending with an attempt to take Guadalupe, the second city in size in Mexico. A large army has been ordered to mobilize on the west coast and it will be available as soon as the men have been brought together.

Incidentally the rumor was passed around that Federal officers had fallen into Constitutional hands in the future would be treated in manner similar to that adopted by Gen. Villa at Juarez.

The protest against the execution of political prisoners will not be acted, according to an officer in the confidence of the chief.

HALE DISAPPOINTED.
Dr. Hale is said to have expressed his disappointment over the fact that the Constitutionalists still insist that no executions are necessary in this country, and that the men captured at Juarez were not turned loose, as proposed, under the rules of civilized warfare.

Those who have watched the course of the negotiations since the outbreak of the revolution in Mexico, Dr. Hale's attitude in this matter may be one of the prime reasons why the mission did not prove more successful.

A number of Constitutionalists who have come north to the United States recently, have given a glowing reception to the news of the execution of political prisoners. They are inclined to believe that the execution of political prisoners is a necessary part of the revolution, and that the men captured at Juarez were not turned loose, as proposed, under the rules of civilized warfare.

FOR O'SHAUGHNESSY.
Speculation as to what action President Wilson intends to take in the Mexican situation was increased today by the knowledge that the American Charge d'Affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, had received new instructions from Washington to wait at his post for further instructions.

The announcement that a British squadron is coming to Mexican waters created great interest, but the effect upon the Mexican mind was reassuring because the Mexican people continue to look upon Great Britain as a friend. In official quarters the dispatch of the squadron was styled an act of courtesy.

FOREIGNERS PREPARED.
The foreign colony in this Mexican capital are preparing to defend themselves in the event of disturbances in the city, and particularly should the final settlement be left to the Mexicans themselves. Both Sir Lionel Carden and Admiral Von Hintze, the British and German Ministers, respectively, have suggested to their nationals the advisability of perfecting some sort of defense organization.

It is believed that such an organization will be organized by the Americans, but committees are quietly working out a plan of defense and it is possible that there will be a general organization embracing the American, British, German and Austrian residents. The American charge attended today a reception given to the diplomats by Gen. Huerta at Chapultepec Castle. It was an elaborate affair and was held there because of the restricted facilities of the President's town and suburban homes.

Britton M. Busch testified that he had been a partner in the firm for fifteen years, and that his present resources consisted of less than $200 in bank.

Walter Kutzbach, a third member of the bankrupt concern, was asked if he had any tangible resources left.

French Doctor Isolates a Bacillus Which Is Said to Have Poisoned Wedding Guests.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The recent poisoning of fifty guests at a wedding party at Cholet, a town in the department of Maine et Loire, was due, it is said, to a bacillus, hitherto unknown to science, which Dr. Rappin, director of the Pasteur Institute at Nantes, announces he has succeeded in isolating. As a result of the poisoning eight persons died, and later there were other deaths from a mysterious cause in the town among people who had not attended the wedding.

The new bacillus varies from one-thousandth to five thousandths of a millimeter in length and is of a peculiar color. It has been named "bacillus hypertoxicus." Dr. Rappin is continuing his investigation into the nature of the bacillus.

PULLMAN TIPS AS PART WAGES.

Public Is Assured Twice, Eschelman Declares.

State Commissioner Lectures Company Officials.

Bell Boys as Speculators in the Lower Berths.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—Both as a private citizen who does a good deal of traveling and as president of the California State Railroad Commission, John M. Eschelman did some very plain talking today to officers of the Pullman Company.

For the past two months the commission has been investigating complaints from the general public against Pullman service. At the hearing today there were present G. S. Fernald, general counsel for the company; Richmond Dean, general manager, both with headquarters in Chicago, and T. C. Coogan, general attorney for the company in California.

"Though it is not within the province of this commission," said President Eschelman, "to have anything to do with the rate of wages paid to the employees of any corporation, we are convinced that much of the trouble of the Pullman Company is due to the fact that it does not pay sufficient wages to its employees and practically compels them to make a living by getting the traveling public to 'live up' or 'come through' as the language of the day has it."

There are serious complaints against the practices of the company, and these of many of them go to the necessity of its employees to discontinue a living wage from the public.

"I am even prepared to say that if the Pullman company would raise its wage scale, and do away with the abuses of the tipping system, the company would be willing to listen to a raise in rates. As now operated, the man who runs the Pullman car is unable to obtain a service, unless he pays extra for it."

President Eschelman enriched his opinion with personal experiences. He told of a Pullman car conductor who, when he boarded the train, "and if I had I should have thrown out the window." They got no drawing-room.

On another trip, a porter who had heard an investigation was being made and had learned that Eschelman's connection with it, took him aside and begged him: "What ever else you do, don't touch our tips. We can't live without them."

General Manager Dean interposed that the company has fifty inspectors traveling in California. "I don't want to go on record as favoring the employment of private detectives in California," replied President Eschelman, "but I want to tell your company that I do not know what's going on."

The hearings will be continued and are likely to embrace a wide review of the company's regulations and practices. Among the most frequent complaints are that berths are often sold twice; that the upper berth is usually made up and lowered whether it has been sold or occupied or not, thus shutting out ventilation from the lower berth; that conductors refuse to honor telegraphic orders; that conductors hold out lowers and sell them to belated arrivals for substantial tips; that hotel porters and bell boys speculate in lower berths, sharing excess prices with Pullman employees.

PROTEST RATE INCREASES.
Hearing on Proposed Charge for California Vegetable and Fruit Shipments Set for December.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 19.—One of the purposes of the hearing to be held here December 8 and 12 before Special Examiner Hart of the Interstate Commerce Commission is to investigate a proposed increase in rates on vegetables and fresh fruit from California points to Nevada and other States. This increase approximates 25 per cent. The protest is made by Sacramento shippers.

Fruit rates from this State to southern States will be argued, the Pacific Fruit Exchange contending they are exorbitant. Refrigeration rates will be also protested.

Heat Wave Back East.

and the dealers in coal, turp and flannel are facing bankruptcy.

One of the peculiar effects of the unusually mild weather here is that flowers are blossoming for the second and third time this season. Dandelions, which usually retire from business in midsummer, are now bringing forth their third crop of blooms. The suburbs are thickly dotted with them. Under normal conditions the prairie would be bare and brown, or covered with snow, but now they are yellow with the dandelions, presenting a grotesque appearance.

The excess temperature for 1913 already is more than 445 deg. over normal, while the deficiency of moisture for the year is only 4.55 inches. The relative humidity today was 93 at 7 o'clock this morning and 84 at 7 this evening. Tonight the temperature is dropping about one degree an hour, but the air is marked by cold "streaks" indicating there is colder weather in the Northwest, battling for admission to the city and the territory southeast of it, with the warm atmosphere of the lake.

FREAK WEATHER.
As showing the freakish weather now burdening the country, some comparisons are of interest. Los Angeles reports maximum of 60 and minimum of 52, which is slightly below normal for this season of the year. The same temperature prevails at Buffalo, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Evansville, Ind.; Memphis, Tenn.; Central Illinois, Iowa and Missouri report maximum of 72. This is four degrees higher than Los Angeles, and four degrees hotter than in Los Angeles and Kansas City is fourteen degrees hotter than Lower California.

These conditions are abnormal, and if continued will result in general discomfort over a wide area. Hard freezing weather of considerable duration is absolutely vital to the health of the cities of the East and Middle West, as they do not take the precautionary sanitary measures that obtain in cities located in the milder climates.

EXODUS TO CALIFORNIA.
Fearing epidemics, many people are already departing for California, where they will be resolutely assured of settled weather. Heavy rains fell over the East Central States and in Iowa and Minnesota of the West Central group. The coldest weather in eight tonight is at Calgary, 3 deg. above, and average, customarily buried under many feet of snow at this season, reports an average of 46 deg. above tonight.

The City's Eastern Gateway is Open!

Since Los Angeles was a pueblo, its expansion eastward has been solidly and stubbornly blocked by the Rancho San Antonio, better known as Laguna Ranch. The city has spread out in all other directions, and fortunes have been made through subdividing—but the late Mrs. Arcadia De Baker, owner of this valuable Spanish grant, for sentimental reasons refused to permit the city to acquire a single foot of her land.

A year ago Mrs. Baker was finally persuaded to sell 2800 acres of her property, almost directly adjoining the eastern limits of the city—just 20 minutes from downtown.

The property was secured at a figure low enough to place it on the market in 30-foot lots with all city improvements—gas, water, electricity, telephones, paved streets, cement curbs and walks—for as little as

CURRENCY BILL IN FINAL STAGE.

Democrats Are Putting on the Finishing Touches.

The Plan to Refund Bonds
Is Changed Again.

Both Sides About Done
With Their Drafts.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WRITER TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—With two widely divergent drafts of the administration currency bill practically completed, a programme for the consideration of the currency legislation in the Senate will be arranged by Senate leaders tomorrow. The Democrats of the Banking and Currency Committee and the Republicans and Senator Hitchcock were almost through tonight with the framing of their respective drafts.

The full committee will meet tomorrow morning to decide in what form the report to the Senate will be made. The suggestions of the Republicans that the committee report itself evenly divided and unable to agree and file the two proposed bills as amendments to the House bill may be adopted.

A meeting of the Senate Banking Committee will take up the currency situation before the Senate meets tomorrow and also consider the possibility of an adjournment of Congress, although leaders have practically abandoned the idea.

If the Banking and Currency Committee is able to agree on the form of a report, the bill may be taken to the floor tomorrow, although it probably will be held out a day or two, possibly until Monday.

The Democrats of the Banking and Currency Committee adopted an amendment today, providing for the refunding of the outstanding 2 per cent. bonds and the issuance of 3 per cent. bonds for them. The 3 per cent. bonds would be purchased and held by the regional banks to be used in maintaining the gold-reserve. The Republican bill provides for the issue of one-year 3 per cent. notes in lieu of the 2 per cent. bonds, for similar purposes.

The Republicans finally revised their requirements for the shifting of reserves to this new system. They provided that the reserves should be turned over to the regional banks at the rate of 1 per cent. every six months until the required 4 per cent. of the country banks and 6 per cent. of city banks had been deposited.

This plan was evolved to relieve any strain that the sudden shifting of reserve funds might cause.

DRY STATE NEXT YEAR PROHIBITION SLOGAN.

Hot Fight in State Convention Swung for 1914 Faction.

Smiling Session by Foes of John Barleycorn Ends in Victory for the "Get-Busy-Right-Away" Side in the Last Five Minutes—Peppery Charges Hurlled Back and Forth Through Six-Hour Debate.

State-wide campaign to keep the props out from under the legalized wine, beer and liquor in California will begin in 1914, at the latest. It was so decided at the convention held at the Hotel California yesterday.
The convention, which was attended by delegates from every county in the state, was held at the Hotel California
yesterday afternoon and evening.
The delegates, representing every county in the state, were present at the convention, which was held at the Hotel California
yesterday afternoon and evening.
The delegates, representing

that the scrap would hurt
the cause, and above joy into the camp of the sawdust outfit, sent out calls for peace and harmony. But to no avail, and the 1600-odd hater of liquor from various parts of the state fled out of the church. The hatchet refused to be buried.

The convention opened at 10 o'clock.
Twenty minutes after the call to order the crowd became so great that hundreds were unable to gain admittance. Rev. C. E. Cornell of the Nazarene Church extended an invitation to adjourn the meeting to his church, and a parade not on the program formed and proceeded down Broadway to the church at Sixth and Wall streets. Nearly 2000 persons, of which number 1500 were delegates, crowded into the building, and the war was on.

THE ISSUE.
The question at issue was whether a State-wide prohibition campaign by constitutional amendment shall be conducted in California next year.
The delegates, representing many religious, moral and prohibition organizations, hailed from every part of California. Many of the leading ministers of the State were present and participated in the heated debate.

Dr. Cornell read the call and Frederick Freeman Wheeler, leader of the 1914 forces and former prohibition candidate for Vice-President, was named as chairman without opposition. Fred Meach of Pasadena was elected temporary secretary. The Credentials Committee was headed by former Assemblyman C. H. Randall of Highland Park. Miss Helen Stoddard of San Diego was named chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization. The 1914 campaign managers saw to it that the committees were dominated by their representatives. While the committees were framing their reports speeches were considered the proper thing. For two hours enthusiastic anti-saloonsists wasted eloquent, purring sixteen-inch shells into the hide of the three bad boys—Brewery, Barroom and Boose. The morning session was more compared to the afternoon gathering.

The first heavy gun was fired when the Committee on Permanent Organization introduced a report with instructions to begin the campaign instantly. The church was in an uproar. Scores of men and women jumped to their feet and endeavored to gain recognition from the chair.
The outburst raged unceasingly for several minutes, when Chairman Wheeler succeeded in gaining a semi-balance of order. He pleaded for order and recognized a northern delegate. He started to say something about delaying the fight until 1916
and then the sparks began flying terrifically. After splintering his gavel in a dozen different ways, Wheeler perspiring and heavy-eyed, temporarily stemmed the ardent ones.

A peace offering was introduced in the "Dry Quartette," which rendered tuneful and catchy prohibition songs.
The delegates joining in the chorus.
No time was lost in getting to the paramount issue, "1914 or 1916."
Chairman Wheeler, Wiley J. Phillips, Rev. H. P. Clark of Long Beach, Henry Clay Needham of Newhall and Rev. Mr. Cornell handled the brunt of the fight for the '14 advocates, while Dr. E. E. Chapman, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League; Dr. Charles Edward Locke of the First Methodist Church and Rev. Huston Miller of San Francisco led the van on the fringe line for the '16 champions. Speakers were limited to five minutes. Several of the delegates moved to extend the limit to half an hour, but the convention quickly squelched the proposition.

NEWBY'S FIVE MINUTES.
Nathan Newby, the first speaker, attacked the constitutionality of the amendment drawn by the Wheeler-Phillips-Cornell forces. He predicted defeat for the amendment if it is placed on the 1914 ballot. When Newby's five-minute limit had expired a delegate in the gallery asked if he was given five minutes more.
After a scrappy debate lasting ten minutes the convention by an overwhelming vote decided it had heard enough from Newby and he was refused permission to continue.

Wiley J. Phillips talked energetically in favor of besting the campaign at once. He said "delay will be dangerous." Rev. Charles A. Scott of San Bernardino summed up his case when Phillips concluded, said he was opposed to "team-work or method."
and asked that Newby be given five minutes. The chairman ruled him out of order. Scott refused to consider himself out of order until he had informed his fellow delegates that he believed in "fair play."

DR. LOCKE'S SHOTS.
Newby then appealed from the decision of the chair. He was again voted down by a big vote. The crowd went wild. Scores of delegates cried "Order!" and the whistles of Wheeler's big gavel could not be heard ten feet from the platform.
The delegates then decided to "let the din and disorder." When the notes abated Dr. Locke was recognized. He took the platform amid loud applause. He made a fiery address, pleading for 1916. He said it would be unwise to start now. "We must educate the people first," he declared, "and it takes time to do that."
Dr. Locke intimated that many women line up with the liquor element in elections. A female voice piped "shame," and another called "Shame it on the women." Dr. Locke retorted with "Go to Redondo Beach if you don't trust me." He declared that the W.C.T.U. of Northern California is opposed to the 1914 campaign plan.
Cries of "No, no," and "That isn't true," came from many parts of the house. Dr. Locke said, "Wait a minute and hear from people from the North."
He concluded with an earnest plea for harmony and a simultaneous campaign against the common enemy.

OF THE NORTH.
Mrs. Sarah J. Dorr of San Jose, president of the W.C.T.U. of Northern California, was introduced. She said
Dr. Locke was right, that the members of her organization would be unanimously in favor of waiting until 1916 before striking the big blow.
She was roundly cheered. Dr. Cornell followed with a plea to "stop fighting among ourselves and present a solid front against the whisky gang." He expressed himself strongly in favor of beginning right now and keeping up a "red hot fight until the battle is won, whether in 1914 or in 1916."

Attorney J. D. White made a strong address. He represented the Church

CITY MAY OWN POWER WITHOUT MORE BONDS.

Companies Offer Lease and Final Sale
to the Municipality.

Joint Board of Control Would Supervise Operation of System Five Years While Corporations Get Ready to Quit Local Field—State Railroad Commission
Asked to Authorize Deal Now Before Council.

THE three companies now distributing electrical power in Los Angeles last night made public the plan to lease their systems to the city, to withdraw from the local field in five or ten years, and to make way for municipal ownership.
The plan is embraced in a proposed application to the State Railroad Commission to authorize the power companies to enter into an agreement with the city on a leasing basis that will eventually result in outright purchase.
The application was filed with the Public Service Commission of the City Council and the City Attorney, and will be followed today by the filing of trust deeds and other documents showing the bonding condition of the corporations.
The tremendous sweep of this proposition covers every angle, legal and economic, of the problems involved in the transfer of three great systems, providing for a joint board of control to supervise the work. This board of control, it is suggested, will be composed of three men named by the city,
and three named by the companies, probably one from each concern. With a tie vote upon any proposition in this board it is agreed to submit the matter to the State Railroad Commission for arbitration.

TOWARD CITY OWNERSHIP.
The companies plan to pave the city a way to municipal ownership of a great public utility without increasing the bonded debt, for, in the ultimate working out of the plan, the
city may bond its own system while
the companies are taking care of their own bonds by increasing their distributing systems outside the municipality.

The plan, as outlined in a voluminous application to the State Railroad Commission, is an amplification of the original offer of the power companies, but in its elaboration it contains many new and salient points that not only conform to ideas broached by Councilmen, but embodies a remedy for any objection the bond trustees might have against leasing by the city. This is shown in the plan for a joint board of control which gives the city supervision and the city to make all collections.
If at the end of five years from the date of entering upon the lease the city should care to acquire possession it may do so by bringing action in eminent domain.

Upon the question of ultimate purchase, the State Railroad Commission is to make an appraisal and the city may buy upon the arbitrated figure. The State Railroad Commission is now in possession of data showing the valuation of the properties.
The features of the proposed lease and contract to sell, are condensed
as follows:

THE FEATURES.
(1) The electric distributing system of the companies will be used for the distribution of the city's electric energy.
(2) The companies shall maintain an efficient corps of solicitors and will exercise activity and diligence in extending the distribution
of a great public utility without increasing the bonded debt, for, in the
ultimate working out of the plan, the
city may bond its own system while
the companies are taking care of their
own bonds by increasing their distributing systems outside the municipality.

Uses Steinway

Madame Schumann-Heink uses no other Piano but the Steinway.
Though some artists are paid to use other Pianos, when they select instruments for their own use,
they buy Steinways.

The "Musical Courier" recently had this to say: "It would be interesting if the names of Artists could be published who tour under contract to use various pianos, but buy Steinways for their own use when their tours are completed. It is known that more than one artist has used part of the money earned by playing other pianos to purchase a Steinway for his personal use."

This is simply another proof of the recognized supremacy of the Steinway Piano.

AL EWING SWEARS THAT MAIER HAS STOLEN ORVIE.

Deliberate Plot on Part of Eddie to Weaken the Seats.

Intends to Fight the Venice Club to the Finish as Overall Is Too Valuable a Man for the Seats to Lose. Orvie's Letters to Ewing Tell the Story—Overall Has Acted Very Mysteriously.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] War has broken loose in Pacific Coast League circles, and all because of what J. Cal Ewing declares openly that Ed Maier, president of the Maier Brewing Company and executive of the Venice baseball club, is deliberately attempting to weaken the San Francisco team by persuading Orvie Overall to sign a contract for two years as a salesman for the brewing company.

Ewing is sore through and through. He is on his tiptoes ready for a fight and while the direct statement has not been made by the head man of the San Francisco team, it is easy to read between the lines that either Maier must recede from his present position or Ewing will fight the Southern Californian to the bitter end.

The announcement came from Overall that he had quit baseball and this was no "winter" story for the creating of news, and not designed for the purpose of securing more money from the San Francisco club. It was a proposition that he intended to go through with unless the local baseball powers see some way of bringing about a change in conditions.

CAL WILL FIGHT
And that's just where the fight will be. Ewing does not propose for a moment to sit idly by and watch his star pitcher taken from him without a protest. It is now up to Maier, so the intimation comes, and should he stand by his contract, there will be a clash that may result in someone being forced out of baseball in the Coast League.

Although the announcement from Los Angeles as published today was an old story to J. Cal Ewing, Secretary Harry Watson and others, who had been advised of what was to happen.

Giving the San Francisco people scant notice from last Saturday until Tuesday, Overall wrote Ewing of the offer that had been made him by the Maier people and declared that if he needed the money, he would be obliged to retire from baseball unless the local management could see fit to grant his demands.

WHAT ORVIE WANTED
And all that Overall wanted was to sign his regular contract calling for the same money as last year and a bonus of $1000 in cash to be paid to him immediately. He advised Ewing that he must have word not later than Tuesday.

Back from San Francisco went the message that Manager Ed Howard had been advised of his request. Overall, however, didn't wait until the time that he himself set as the limit, but on Monday wired Ewing that he had made up his mind to forego baseball and sign to act as salesman for the brewery.

That set Ewing on the warpath, but his associates held him back, suggesting that it would be best for the sake of the break to come from Los Angeles. With the story tipped off, Ewing is ready for what may come, and it isn't going to be a leisurely sort of an affair at all.

CAL'S STATEMENT
Ewing's statement is carefully worded and hardly portrays the feeling that exists. Here it is:

"I consider what Ed Maier has done in employing this man, who is a star in baseball, equivalent to trying to weaken the San Francisco club. I don't know what his object may have been, but whatever it is, it is beneath the dignity and ethics of any man. I consider Maier as well as some of my associates in baseball, and if he wanted to employ a man who is in my employ today he should have spoken ahead of time to me."

The correspondence that passed between Overall and Ewing is as follows:

EDDIE MAIER NOT AFRAID OF CAL EWING'S THREATS.

[BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.]
social matter between Overall and myself.

"It was not my suggestion that Overall enter my employment. He volunteered the information that he intended to quit the game unless he could get a place as manager, and asked me for his old position, which he gave up when he joined the Chicago Cubs last season. Prior to approaching me, Overall told Barney Oldfield that he intended to retire from baseball, and it was from that source that I first learned of his intentions."

"Overall's case is by no means exceptional. Players are retiring from the game every year. He realized that he couldn't pitch many more seasons, and felt that he should get into something permanent."

"He rendered me very valuable service last winter, and I was glad to be able to secure him again. When he told me that he intended to retire, I promptly offered him a position rather than run the risk of having him go to a rival brewery."

"It is true that I have given Overall a permanent position, but that has nothing to do with baseball or with Mr. Ewing. It is purely a personal matter between Overall and myself."

HARVARD MEN COME TO BIG GAME FROM AFAR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two Harvard graduates are coming ten thousand miles each to witness the football game with Yale next Saturday at the Stadium.

One is Nai Aah, a wealthy Bangkok, Siam, native merchant, who was a freshman at Harvard, in 1909, and the other is Samsi Abe, a Tokyo, Japan, merchant, who graduated from Harvard eight years ago. Letters and checks from them have been received and the tickets have been laid aside for them. They have cabled they are coming.

Another Harvard graduate sent a wireless application from a ship coming across the Pacific, the message being received early in the week. His ticket is awaiting him.

Not a single Harvard man has had his application turned down. About 45,000 spectators will be seated this year. Every theater seat and every restaurant, cafe, club and dining-room has all its accommodations reserved for both Friday and Saturday night. The hotels report no rooms available. A round million dollars will be spent on the big game festivities in Boston.

CHANGES MIND AFTER HE HAD ACCEPTED TERMS.

CROSS AND RIVERS FIGHT AT HIGHER POUNDAGE.

Wants Willie Ritchie to Make 135 Pounds Although the Match Was Made at 135 at 5 O'clock—Matter Must Be Decided Very Soon, Says Jim Coffroth.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is a hitch over weight in the Ritchie-Murphy match for December 10 that, unless it be settled by 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, threatens in all probability to call off the contest involving the lightweight championship.

Apparently the weight problem had been agreed upon while Ritchie was in New York, but the arrival of the champion today brought about the announcement from Coffroth that the match was a change of mind and the weight he had said would suit him in New York would no longer do.

In short, according to an announcement made by Coffroth, Buckley sent him a wire today insisting that the weight must be either 132 pounds at 10 o'clock in the morning or 135 pounds ringside and that unless Ritchie agreed, Murphy would refuse the bout.

All this is peculiar, in view of the fact that Buckley originally agreed to weight terms, but Coffroth is backing the easterner up with the declaration that the match would not be taken with sufficient seriousness if the weight should be 135 pounds at 5 o'clock in the afternoon for a night match.

Manager Harry Foley held a long conference this afternoon with Coffroth and at the end, the promoter said he would give Foley until 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to make up his mind whether Ritchie will do 135 pounds ringside.

Just what is to be the outcome both Ritchie and Foley refused to state. Foley said that he would insist upon 135 pounds, weight in at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, inasmuch as that had suited Jim Buckley when he was broached on the subject in New York.

WANT ANSWER
"I must know Foley's answer not later than Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock," said Coffroth. "It is just three weeks before the scheduled date and in addition to giving Buckley a chance to bring Murphy here, I must also have time to make preparations. Buckley wired me that Foley had promised to have another fight, but they failed to get together and that he didn't want to set the weight as high as was the original agreement."

It is understood that Coffroth's original agreement by which he was to give Ritchie a $15,000 guarantee, called for the title-holder to make 135 pounds one hour before the battle and possibly some such compromise will be reached.

MORMONS DRAW WITH THE HUNS.

Pomona Scores on Straight Plunging Football.

Utah Gives Great Exhibition of Open Play.

Sutherland Plays Only Last Few Minutes.

[BY OWEN K. BIRD.]

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CLAREMONT (Cal.) Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Run and the Mormon battled to a draw yesterday afternoon on Alumni field in one of the most heart-breaking battles ever staged in Southern California.

The final score was 7-7, but the most spectacular part of the great struggle was the Garfield splash pulled off by Utah in the last quarter of the game when, with the score 7 to 9 against them, the men from the Rockies braced and played some of the most wonderful football seen in these parts for many months.

During the first half it was an even break, with the odds slightly in favor of Pomona, as Stadium's men were playing hard, fast, clean, straight football. The line was charging like a bull, and the back field was making a galaxy of yard gains while the backs were sitting through the holes in desperate manner, but a score was not to be had, the Red line was too much.

Brilliant tackles and runs and long kicks featured the play in the first two quarters. Time and again each goal was threatened, only to have the grim defenders rise like rocks in a stormy sea, shattering the attack and forcing the ball back down the field.

It was terrible work, but all hands stood up under the terrific guff like heroes and when the whistle blew at half time the score was 0 to 0.

SECOND HALF
When the teams lined up for the kickoff at the opening of the second half it was, really, as though both squads were ready to do anything to win, and they did. McIntyre booted the ball to Jensen of Pomona, who came writhing up the field for a fifteen-yard gain before being stopped by the crimson twenty-five-yard mark.

Plunging was of no avail and McIntyre kicked to Jensen, who was tearing up the field another fifteen yards before being tackled by three men, who had to dive over the back of two Pomona blockers, but he got his man. Jensen was hurt in the pass but came back.

It was at this point that Greely was discovered at full in the place of Cogswell. He was given the ball and began running the line like a mad-dened lion. Greely, who had taken Tomman's place earlier in the game, was also giving yards when most needed, and I natch add that the little sub played like a veteran. Desperately the play raged, over and over the crimson goal.

Yard after yard the Blue line cut nearer the vital boundary, at last the ball was on Utah's thirty-five-yard line, then Dick Heath jumped into the spotlight. With a delayed pass around his right end, the big tackle ripped his way for twenty-five yards, to the Utah seven-yard line.

THE SCORE
Twice Jensen and Chary ranned in to a stonewall, but put the play up three yards. On the second end, Quarterback Brennan called for a forward pass, failing the heave to Greely, who cornered forward yard, but the ball was dropped to him. Chary who dashed around the end and like a shooting star, all the way behind the goal post, scored, and a wild demonstration. Pomona had scored. The game little fellow got his breath, then booted the goal, making it 7 to 0.

The third quarter was nearly spent at this time, but with a wild yell the Mormons came back, ripping, smashing and tearing the Pomona defense. At this juncture, Coach Benning slipped Vanderland into the game at quarterback and the whole complexion of the battle changed. We have been hearing reports as to what a wonderful little sub general this chap was but he lived up to the best that has ever been said of him today.

Edmund, a badly sprained ankle, he rallied his forces and began an attack, the like of which would have puzzled Solomon in his wisest days. Just as he got ready to going there was called for the third period.

HOW UTAH SCORED
It was up to Utah to save the day in fifteen minutes of the fourth quarter and this is how they did it. The battle started in this quarter on the Pomona thirty-yard line with the ball in the possession of the Blue and White warriors. The first play ended five yards, then Dick held and forced WHITTIER, Nov. 19.—Coach Fair of the High School is in receipt of word from the Hyde Park High School of Chicago asking for a football game here sometime between December 23 and December 31. The Hyde Park aggregation play old style football and have not been beaten this year. They wish to arrange for two games with strong high school or academy teams on their western trip. Coach Fair is considering the matter and may take on the bids from the Windy City.

LEATA J. HAS GONE NORTH.

Fast Mare Will Winter Up at Pleasanton.

Has Had a Sensational Trip Around Circuit.

Should Be a Money-Getter Next Year.

BY R. A. WYNN.

Leata J., the champion racing mare of America that captured so great a commotion at the recently closed meeting of the Los Angeles Jockey Club, is now in a private stable at Pleasanton, Cal.

Accompanied by her trainer and driver, Harry Childs, and a retinue of grooms, rubbers, etc., that resembled the train of a grand opera star the little mare is returning home from what has been called the most triumphant campaign ever conducted by a California horse over the Grand Circuit.

The little pacer that won the hearts of the thousands who attended the races of last week at Exposition Park is owned by W. Jones, a man of moderate means of Sacramento, who leased the great pacer to S. S. Bailey, the millionaire horseman of Pleasanton, last winter.

FIRST APPEARANCE.

This was Leata's first season "out" and her debut on the Grand Circuit or "big time." Last year she "played" at matinees in and about Stockton and then gave her first performance of the phenomenal speed that she later developed. She stepped miles last year in her matinee performances around 2:09 and 2:10. Mr. Jones owned and drove her for the pleasure he got out of the driving. Her perfect gait and great courage in winning attracted the attention of S. S. Bailey and he approached Jones with an offer to rent or lease the mare from him for one year. The price is not known, but that it was a very small sum seems certain. Bailey took the mare to his stock and training farm at Pleasanton, and placed her in charge of his best trainers.

Immediately her pace increased. All winter she was carefully trained and worked out. Last spring she gave promise of her great speed, but little was said of this, as there remained the big cash prize on the Grand Circuit to go after.

There was but one fault to the mare if it could be termed a fault, and that was her habit when under full speed of twisting her head aside. This did no harm except to make it difficult for the driver to use the reins in close driving. To overcome this a stick was fastened to the length of a broom stick and attached to the reins, and then extended along her neck to the bit, where after passing through the ring of the bit, it returned to the driver's hand. This served as a brace or a "cushion" that kept her head straight. It afterwards developed that Leata J. could have had several of the same "faults" and still been able to carry things before her.

A WINNER.

In the East she plunged into the great campaign of the Grand Circuit and met all comers. Soon her name became known. She was winning steadily, but not showing much speed for the good reason that Childs, who drove her, was always willing to win by a very close margin and thus save any fast record for his charge.

Throughout the campaign on the Grand Circuit there developed only one other horse in her class to give her trouble, and that was Phoebe, Jr., the biggest winner of all Grand Circuit horses this year. Leata J. and Frank Rogers, Jr. met twice at various places from Cleveland to Lexington and Louisville. Leata J. won three times and Rogers, Jr., four times. The extra prize of $2500 for the California mare is said by those who saw it to have been somewhat of a fluke, as the time was slow.

After winning a sum estimated anywhere from $20,000 to $27,000 the homeward journey began. At each stop Leata J. again won. At Phoenix she met the first bunch of California horses since her matinee days in Sacramento. Here in the free-for-all Don Prouty, the great California stallion, and Joe Patchen, Jr., another great racer, were also entered with Leata J. Rumors of the phenomenal speed of the Bailey mare had reached California, but as her record stood at 2:02 it was feared that both Don Prouty and Joe Patchen, Jr., could beat her as they had shown some matinee speed.

LONG-WINDED.

It had not been learned in the West as yet that Leata J. could go five heats, finishing the last of the five miles with a two-minute burst of speed, but it was soon to be fully known.

In the first heat of the Phoenix race Don Prouty took it from Leata J. by pacing a mile in a fraction of a second over 2:02. This was expected to dispose of the "upstart" Leata. In the second heat a little compact bunch of muscles and wire nerves leaped into the front and tore around the mile in 2:03 and a fraction, defeating the surprised Don Prouty. The longest of the race was the last heat. Leata J. won and she won the last heat from Don Prouty and the race. Joe Patchen, Jr., did not start in the race.

In Los Angeles the same story was told. In the 2:03 pace Leata J. had no trouble in winning from King Danne, 2:04, and Out Colonel, 2:04, and here again Joe Patchen, Jr., did not enter, nor did Don Prouty this time.

Leata J. is five years old and still has before her several years of great racing. What she will develop next year is a problem that is puzzling horsemen. She may increase her speed and become a still greater wonder of racing and then she may do as other horses have and lose her "edge" dropping back into the 2:10 class.

Bailey's lease expires on her New Year's Day and it is safe to predict that there will be new conditions prescribed for any arrangement that may be entered into for the use of the great racing machine next year.

The annual Inter-University Association football game between Oxford and Cambridge will be played at Queen's Club, London, on Saturday, February 14, 1914.

THE CARE OF THE TEETH.

No. 1.

BY LEACH CROSS,

The Fighting Dentist.

THE root of most of our sickness today is found in the teeth. This assertion may sound strange, but it is a fact. The trouble comes from one's neglecting their teeth, and some of the impurities of the food eaten fasten themselves onto the gums and teeth, and there is the beginning of a lot of stomach, bladder, kidney and lung trouble.

The grown-ups like the young ones, take the greatest of protection with their dress and their body, but their teeth seem to be the last consideration, often overlooked and forgotten for a number of days. The teeth are alive with certain germs and slim, and start a decaying process of both the gums and the teeth, and the troubles are plentiful.

I am frank in my statements on any subject that I am ever concerned on, and I honestly think that the readers of my narrative will agree with me that the mothers will in many cases come to their children's teeth, polish their little teeth, dress them up so they look pick and span, but overlook the cleansing of the child's teeth, which is a more important factor than any other when the child's future and health is to be concerned.

Take care of your teeth if you wish to look young, and if you wish to keep your health. For sickness, nine cases out of ten, starts with neglecting one's teeth, and you will not kill the root of your trouble by giving your teeth as much care and attention as you do your stomach? Both are essential to giving you strength and good health. If you abuse your teeth you are abusing your stomach. Why abuse either? In Friday's article I will tell how beneficial good teeth are to a boxer, and how to take good care of your teeth.

GEORGE N. BANKS WINS COAST CHAMPIONSHIP.

GEORGE N. BANKS is the pocket billiard champion of the Pacific Coast, with full credentials and possession of the trophy emblematic thereof, duly earned in an open tournament regularly advertised and conducted in accordance with the rules of Brunswick-Balke-Clender Company, donors of the trophy, and published in billiard records.

If any player doubts the right of Banks to either title or trophy, he may have the question settled by defeating $50 with Alfred E. Mackenzie, and contesting with Banks a match involving the mutual deposit, title and trophy under the rules governing the emblem.

TOURNAMENT FINALS.

Contrary to expectations, Banks' final game yesterday, with O'Brien as opponent, proved one of his easiest victories. Having won all his previous schedule games, Banks was thought by many to be a sure winner.

Banks took and practically retained the balls thereafter, playing with a smoothness and accuracy which has always distinguished his serious contests and made him a champion. Balls rolled hard for O'Brien during the whole game, but Banks was unbeatable, anyhow, and he ran out in the thirty-fifth inning.

Score—Banks, 108; O'Brien, 43. Time, 1 hr., 30 min. Run—Banks, 11, 12, 13, 15; O'Brien, 17. Scratch—Banks, 2; O'Brien, 4. Misses—Banks, 15; O'Brien, 17. Safe—Banks, 13; O'Brien, 13.

Wilson beat Ingram in fifty-three innings. Time, 1 hr., 35 min. Score—Wilson, 100; Ingram, 52. Run—Wilson, 16, 14, 14; Ingram, 15. Scratch—Wilson, 4; Ingram, 6. Misses—Wilson, 23; Ingram, 25. Safe—Wilson, 21; Ingram, 21.

Greer won from Woolley in easy style in forty innings, after an hour and fifteen minutes of play. Score—Greer, 100; Woolley, 52. Run—Greer, 27, 13, 13, 10; Woolley, 4 high. Scratch—Greer, 2; Woolley, 1. Misses—Greer, 23; Woolley, 25. Safe—Greer, 6; Woolley, 10.

PLAY-OFF TOMORROW.

These events left Banks winner of first prize, title and trophy, as a clean score of five games. Greer, O'Brien

THRONGS SEE NON-STOPPERS FINISH AT BIG TRUCK SHOW.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

SIX trucks finished the non-stop twenty-four-hour run last night at the motor truck show with perfect scores. The Little Giant, the Lincoln, the Universal three-tonner, the Dorris, Republic and the International all completed the run with 1000 points, a perfect score.

Early yesterday morning while the rain was pouring in torrents, the Kiesel 1800-pound truck struck the heavy stream of Jefferson and Main streets. The commercial car, which had made a perfect score up to that minute, skidded, struck the curb, and the driver, in his excitement, stalled his motor and lost ten valuable points.

Thirty seconds from the time the Kiesel motor stopped it was running again as smoothly as ever, and last night when the other engines were stopped, A. S. Robinson, the redoubtable "Hobbs," manager of the local branch of the Pacific Kiesel Car Company, determined to keep that motor moving and that morning, with the observer on the car, the Kiesel was still at it and will be kept going, if possible, at least as long as the truck show lasts.

Oil toppings are being burned at 1 cent per gallon. This is the cheapest fuel on the market. A Master carburetor is being used. The reporter is of particular interest to truck men and others who are watching the work of the Kiesel. In the twenty-four hours the truck made 1000 miles and used thirty-nine gallons of oil toppings. Figure that out for yourself. Try it on your own motor.

With the completion of the non-stop run the crowd poured into the show and the aisles were filled, the booths were crowded and a record attendance was obtained by Manager Walter Hempel. Officially Hempel says 8000 were present. By actual count the number was in excess of the 1000 mark, however. Hempel is making money. The show is a success and the management is well satisfied.

There was a slight to be seen last night as he occupied all of his desk counting the receipts. The Dorris, Republic, International and Lincoln truck corners attracted large crowds last night. These trucks are being exhibited for the first time and judging by the interest

TENNIS MEET AT PASADENA.

CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP FINALS ON SATURDAY.

Talk of a Return Match Between Pasadena Club and Los Angeles Country Club—May Be Puffed Off in the Near Future—Big Fall Tourney to Be Held Soon.

BY R. A. WYNN.

A revival of tennis in Pasadena is expected with the playing of the finals in the singles championship of the Pasadena Tennis Club Saturday of this week on the Hotel Maryland courts.

George Donnell and Eugene Warren have both reached the finals after long hard struggles. Last Saturday Donnell and Victor Dixon played the semi-finals, which resulted in a victory for Donnell, by the score of 6-4, 6-3.

The match will begin at 5 o'clock and will be the best three in five sets. The Pasadena Tennis Club has arranged to give a round robin of men's doubles from among the members of the club on the same afternoon.

A return match between the team of the Pasadena club and that of the Los Angeles Country Club will be staged in Pasadena during the next week. In the first round a match played between these two clubs the Los Angeles club won after a hard struggle. In fact, the class of tennis produced by the two teams was so excellent that there were numerous requests that the two teams be matched again as soon as feasible.

The first tournament given by the Pasadena club last spring was one of the most successful ever given in Pasadena, and resulted in many of the best players in the West coming together. It will be remembered that four of the players in that tournament reached the finals of the Newport tourney in the East, where the national championship titles are determined. These players were William Johnston, the wonderful young singles player of San Francisco, who won the Longwood and New York State titles in the East, and went far to the all-comers at Newport. There was also Thomas Bundy, who, with Maurice McLoughlin, retained their title as doubles champions of the United States. Then there was John Strachan, who won the national doubles title held last year by Williams, and also Clarence Griffin, who with Strachan defeated every doubles team in the East until they met the national champions, McLoughlin and Bundy, at Newport, where they put up a gallant fight.

The arrangements for the annual Thanksgiving invitation tennis tournament of the Los Angeles Country Club are progressing nicely. There have been a large number of acceptances of the invitations issued and there is strong assurance that the tournament will be a success. William Johnston, John Nolan versus Dick Brenton, 100 pounds. Special match, Joe Nieto, Columbia, C., versus Joe White, San Gabriel, A. C. Joe Williams versus Edwin Thayer, 125 pounds. Joe Acuña, San Gabriel, A. C. versus Danny Solomon, Columbia, A. C. Billy Connor versus Kid Alvarez, 155 pounds. Paddy Dillon versus Walter Wilson, 145 pounds. Ray Lenoir versus Blanche Brown, 140 pounds. Wrestling bout, Billy Williams versus Fred Casey, 140 pounds. Champion of Southern California. There will be a special car service to the ringside at 7:30 o'clock, from Seventh and Spring streets.

Frank J. Marshall, the United States chess champion, has planned another tour of this country, but he will not complete his itinerary until he hears from New Orleans, where he will probably be wanted to play for a week. The champion is a regular attendant at the rooms of the Manhattan Chess Club of New York City, when at home.

St. Louis poultry show to be held Thanksgiving week will distribute 25000 in prizes.

Cal Ewing Swears.

ter, dated November 14, that reached Pasadena here on Saturday last, read as follows:

THE LETTER.
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14, 1912.
Dear Sir:—

At present I am up against a hard proposition and going to ask you to help me decide. I have been offered a very good position here in Los Angeles with the Malt Brewing Company but the conditions are that I must remain in the city for two years. It is absolutely necessary that I get busy at something else and there is only one way that I can think of which will enable me to do this. I am in need of money and I want you to understand this is the only reason I am considering leaving the game at this time. If you see fit to make arrangements immediately with me for next year perhaps I can get along until the season opens. For $1000 cash to be paid me immediately, I will sign my contract. Please let me know whether this is satisfactory. I must know immediately and if I do not hear from you on or before Tuesday, I will suppose you do not care to accept.

(Signed) "O. OVERALL."
To this message, Ewing sent the following answer:

"SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.
"O. Overall.
"Los Angeles, Cal.
"I have wired Howard your proposition. Will advise you at once after hearing from him."

Overall, as has been said, did not even wait until Tuesday, but on Monday there came this wire:

"LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.
"Cal Ewing.
"San Francisco, Cal.
"Have decided to retire from baseball and have accepted position with Malt Brewing Company. Sorry to leave you and hope you can readily find some one to take my place. Notify Del Best here."

"OVERALL."
Ewing insists that when Overall left for the coast at the close of the season, everything was all right for him to return and intimates there have been some double dealings.

CONE DEFEATS MORSE.
Cone vanquished Morse last night at Naima's amateur three-cushion hand-picking tournament. Playing his game by using one point of his ball, deep, the score standing at 40 to 41, after eighty-five innings. Morse made him 42 to 41.

THINGS ADHERE TO HIS FINGERS.

Mexican Rounded Up After Cross-Country Chase.

Huntington and Bride Coming Early in January.

Jeweler Pays Girl's Fine to Save Her from Jail.

PASADENA, Nov. 19.—John Heeren, a fuel and feed dealer at No. 1136 Gravelly street, South Pasadena, came joyfully to the Pasadena City Jail yesterday afternoon to have a look at Pilar Payorene, a Mexican, aged 13, who was emmeshed in the toils of the police, charged with stealing practically everything that Heeren owned. City Marshal Johnston of South Pasadena and Deputy Constable Walter Haefer, traveled more than 300 miles in an automobile to overtake the recalcitrant, who had left a trail of trouble behind him.

The youth was formerly employed by the feed man, and, according to his story to the police, the Mexican's deceptions were these: First, he stole two pairs of his employer's trousers, and later came back and took much that remained of his wardrobe, effecting an entrance into the house through a window. Next, some of Heeren's bedclothes went the way of his wearing apparel, and this was followed, it is alleged, by Payorene having forged his name to nine checks. After this Heeren's horse and buggy was taken.

That theft occurred three days ago and the South Pasadena police started out in pursuit of the Mexican. It was learned that, as it alleged, he stopped to steal a bicycle at the Greek settlement in Pasadena, which he in turn sold for $10, with a part of which money he purchased a revolver and a pocketful of cartridges. With these he amused himself by shooting at the cages in Los Nietos, a small settlement six miles from Whittier, near where he was finally apprehended. Marshal Johnston and Deputy Constable Haefer searched one whole day in an automobile and came to within a few yards of the place where Payorene was camping. It afterward transpired, but were unable to see him on account of brush. They returned to South Pasadena and started out again yesterday. They came upon him as he was about to ford a river with this, on the back of which he had placed a "For Sale" sign. The youth had the revolver in his right coat pocket, but Johnston was out of the automobile and had him covered before he had an opportunity to draw it. He had been so minded.

At the Police station Payorene confessed to part of the offenses charged against him and laughed at the whole undertaking as if it were a good joke. A warrant had been issued for his arrest on a charge of forgery.

HUNTINGTON EXPECTED. Myron Hunt, the architect who drew the plans for the completion of the Huntington Hotel, and who has charge of the work, has just returned from New York, where he conferred with H. E. Huntington, owner of the property.

The exact time that Huntington and his bride will arrive in Pasadena has not yet been announced, any further than that they will come early in January. It is probable that they will come across the country on the special train that is to bring the first guests from New York to the hotel.

It was announced yesterday that one of the chief innovations at the large extravaganza will be a theater with a seating capacity of 400. The proscenium arch will be thirty-five feet wide by thirty feet in height and there will be several rows of boxes. It is to be arranged in the east wing of the hotel and will practically be a building in itself. D. M. Linnard, manager of the hotel, said yesterday that there will be a number of notable productions staged there this winter, and the guests at the hotel will be at liberty to put on amateur theatricals if they so choose, or to exhibit motion pictures, with themselves as actors before the camera.

PAYS HER FINE. C. H. Schroeder, a Pasadena jeweler, almost caused the judge and court officials to topple off their chairs yesterday when in Justice of the Peace Dunham's court he coolly paid a $15 fine that had been meted out to Matilda Delgado, a Mexican girl, who had been arrested for attempting to steal a diamond from his store.

"It was as much my fault as the girl's," he said. "I left the stickpin where she could reach it easily. To steal jewelry within reach of an ignorant Mexican is to make him steal. It is inevitable. They are brought up in poverty and are virtually taught to steal jewelry. I am not a thief, but I would do the girl any good to remain in jail for fifteen days, which she would have had to do, and so I paid her fine."

MAY CHANGE ITS PLAN. There is a probability that at the second school bond election, if one is held, the bonds for the proposed improvements in different parts of the district will be segregated, so that a voter may cast his ballot in favor of some of the bonds and against others.

A meeting of the board was held yesterday, at which an opinion from Charles E. Haas, Deputy County Counsel, was read. He stated in part: "The Board of Education may submit an election and submit to said election, as one proposal, the question of issuing bonds, or may submit at said election as separate questions the issuance of bonds for any of said outlays, or so many of them as may be selected; or, said order may submit at said election as separate questions the issuance of bonds for any of said outlays, singly or in such combinations as the order may direct."

The board took no action yesterday, but will consider the matter further.

Vascerat lamps and vases are 40 per cent. less at Grace Nicholson's Hotel Vista del Arroyo, Pasadena.

THE OTHER SIDE OF IT. The city authorities and the City Council here are indignant over the report that the Board of Education may submit an election and submit to said election, as one proposal, the question of issuing bonds, or may submit at said election as separate questions the issuance of bonds for any of said outlays, or so many of them as may be selected; or, said order may submit at said election as separate questions the issuance of bonds for any of said outlays, singly or in such combinations as the order may direct."

Brown says that no arrests have ever been made except for exceeding the speed of fifteen miles within the city limits, as was the case recently in the firing of C. M. Neuner, a student of the University of Southern California.

BRIDGE BUST.

The first bridge who is terrorizing this community again got to his work last night, when he started a fire in the rear of the Ruffin block occupied by the Ruffin jewelry store. A barrel of excelsior was placed in the doorway of a storage room and directly under a stairway in the rear of the building. This was lighted and was in a fair way to start a good-sized conflagration in the business district when people in a near-by pool yard discovered the fire, and this preventing serious damage.

This is the third attempt in the business district to start a fire, while the numerous fires in old barns in the suburbs have resulted in the destruction of the buildings.

Y.W.C.A. CAMPAIGN.

The mass meeting of women held to ascertain whether this city wants a Young Women's Christian Association or not resulted in the affirmative. There was a large attendance and the reports showed that 285 young women have expressed a desire to join the association, and the property donated by Col. R. M. Baker for a site for an association is to be taken over in a few days by the association, which has just been incorporated, and from this time on it is expected that active steps will rapidly follow each other in getting the organization into actual working order. Mrs. O. Shepherd Barnum of Los Angeles directed the meeting.

WHERE DOES HE STAND?

E. J. Gilbert of this city was supposed to have resigned his position as inheritance tax appraiser for this county by appointment from the county administration, in order that he might accept the position on the city Water Commission, the city charter forbidding him holding any other office.

Other candidates who have sought to secure an appointment to the supposed vacancy have been informed by the county Controller Chamberlain that Gilbert has resigned the position and that he is with the understanding that he is to be again appointed and that there is no vacancy to be filled.

All of which leads some people to wondering whether Gilbert intends to quit his city job and return to the State job, which pays several times as much in salary.

FRIENDSHIPS PUT TO TEST.

Judge Puts It Up to Bull Moose to Save.

Olives in Greater Demand by Pickle Factories.

Fire-Bug Sought for Starting Numerous Blazes.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 19.—Dr. F. G. Wishard today before Judge F. F. Oster pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzling $1000 from the private funds of patients at the Southern California State Hospital at Patton, and was given a parole for three years by the court with the understanding that he repay the entire sum taken within thirty days.

In announcing the latter condition Judge Oster took occasion to say that a number of Wishard's Bull Moose friends had asked that he be paroled and now if they really were his friends they should come to his assistance in aiding him in a financial way to make the money good.

It is understood that Dr. Wishard will come to San Bernardino and open a dental office for the practice of his profession and try to live down the disgrace.

Numerous letters were presented to the court from Dr. Wishard's political friends, among them Senator J. L. Ayer of Redlands, Assemblyman George C. Highland, Dr. W. F. Burke, until recently chairman of the Bull Moose County Central Committee, and others. Dr. Ayer blamed the present condition of the county on the downfall of Dr. Wishard, while many and varied were the reasons given by others. The political friends of the doctor, however, noticeable because of their absence from the court session, none of them appearing as witnesses to testify as to his previous good character and reputation. Several other friends, however, did so.

At the hospital Dr. Wishard held the position of private secretary to the medical superintendent.

OLIVES IN DEMAND.

The olive harvest in this valley is now on in earnest and as a result the picking factories are all running full capacity though the crop is probably somewhat below normal. It is, however, higher than last year but the demand for the fruit has kept the prices up to from $150 to $180 per ton on the trees. And growers expect the rapidly growing demand for ripe olive pickles will keep the price of the fruit up yet for some years to come as the bearing trees are limited.

While new orchards are being planted it will be some years before they come into bearing to any great extent and meanwhile the demand for the California pickled olive will continue to grow. The packing of the city, Del Rosa, Fontana and Bloomington are all putting up large quantities of fruit. It is estimated that this year is above the average.

OLD GUARD ACTIVE.

San Bernardino county is well represented at the conference of Republican leaders held at the present time in this city. E. W. McNabb, State committee man from this county; E. M. Boyd, chairman of the County Central Committee; W. E. Westland of Upland, E. H. Jelliffe of Ontario, Supervisor George E. Butler of Needles, W. E. Brookings of Redlands and others have gone north for the meeting.

The old party continues strong in San Bernardino county and may be heard to write in the ordinary way for the Republican ticket if one is placed in the field in next year's campaign.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.
Councilman Conwell yesterday offered a resolution which makes all leagues or associations file lists of membership with the City Clerk before their petitions can be considered.

Upon the definition of a majority of the Council many of its members disagree and the charter sheds no light on the matter involved in two rulings by President Whiffen. Resignation has reached the city, but the City Council hasn't seen it yet because it was in the hands of Dr. John R. Haynes for a few days and was then returned.

In reversing its order on opening bids for steel construction work at the harbor, the Board of Public Works shut out one bidder who is given a chance to underbid all others after seeing their proposals.

In disposing of a divorce suit yesterday Judge Monroe commented on some reasons leading a comparatively young woman to marry an old man, and vice versa, saying it was speculation in her part, and a desire by him to convince her that he had property.

At the City Hall.

FAKE LEAGUES HIT BY COUNCIL.

NEW ORDER REQUIRES LISTS OF MEMBERS ON FILE.

Councilman Conwell Offers Resolution, Favored by Majority of His Colleagues, Requiring Visionary Organizations to Make Public Their Entire Membership.

Petitioners who file letters and communications to the City Council under the guise of some "highfalutin" association or other, will have to discard the alias and tell their right names in the future, according to a resolution introduced yesterday by Councilman Conwell. It provides that all organizations of which the city has no record as to address, place of meeting and membership, will hereafter be persona non grata.

The resolution was referred to the Public Safety Committee and has the endorsement of six members of the Council. It is as follows:

"Whereas, numerous communications are filed from time to time, with the City Council, from various civic and improvement associations, women's clubs, etc.; and

"Whereas, the city of Los Angeles has no record of the existence of such organizations, as to their address, place of meeting and membership, and it is the duty of the City Council to see that no such organizations are given the right to appear before it as bona fide citizens; and further, that it is the sense of this Council that no communication will be considered unless it is shown that said resolution or preamble was adopted by the unanimous vote of members present, and if not unanimously adopted, the City Council will not consider the same."

The Mayor, whose mail has been clogged with all sorts of communications from all sorts of visionary organizations, is heartily in favor of a measure that will give the city the right to trace authorship as to the case of private individuals whose names are appended to every communication considered seriously.

The resolution strikes at such organizations as the Independent Civic League, People's Welfare Commission and scores of other organizations who represent no one but a few officers, so far as the City Council knows.

WHEN IS A MAJORITY?
COUNCIL OPENLY DIVIDED.

Because of the lack of a specific definition in the charter, the Council is divided upon the question: What or when is a majority? President Whiffen held in ruling on the McReynolds removal, that 5 votes, a majority of the Council, were necessary to confirm or reject an appointment or removal. The vote showed four, but the retention of McReynolds, and three against. The charter does not state that 5 votes are necessary in either event, and in mentioning cases where a "majority" of the Council is necessary to bind an action, it uses two expressions—"a majority of the Council" and "a majority of the whole Council."

In parliamentary procedure it is held that "majority" refers to a majority of the quorum and not of the whole. It is upon this point that the Public Utilities Committee, to which has been referred the Mayor's letter removing McReynolds, will "pass the buck" back to the Council, probably Saturday morning. Yesterday, President Whiffen held in the vote on the Broadway tunnel protest that 4 votes were sufficient to defeat the protest, and he explained that his ruling was consistent with that in the McReynolds case because the McReynolds matter involved the removal of an appointive officer, while the tunnel matter was merely upon the decision of a protest matter, and therefore not at all similar.

RESIGNATION SENT.
COUNCIL HASN'T SEEN IT.

Councilman Reed has sent a formal resignation from the City Council to the city, but it hasn't reached that body yet. The resignation, it was said yesterday, was for some time in the hands of Dr. John R. Haynes, to whom it was handed by Reed's mother, who came to the city from the Reed ranch in Coachella Valley a few days ago.

The resignation has been expected, but it has been held up by friends of the young Councilman. Mrs. Reed was advised, after she reached Los Angeles, not to file the resignation, at least until the expiration of her son's leave of absence, which will be in about two weeks. Although she knew that the Councilman's intention was to resign, she is said to have taken the resignation back to the Reed ranch with her.

It is believed that the resignation will come from Reed direct in a few days. It has been expected for some time.

WANTS TO BID.
UNION IRON WORKS ACTS.

The Union Iron Works of San Francisco now wants to bid on the 1800-foot municipal steel shed at the harbor, bids for which were opened Monday. The company sent a letter to the Board of Public Works yesterday, enclosing a clipping from The Times, which states that the board had decided to return all bids unopened, inasmuch as a protest had been made that the steel plans shut out competition for steel-roller warehouse doors.

The board did take this action Saturday, but rescinded it Monday and opened what bids were in. The Union Iron Works' bid, says the letter, was prepared and ready for filing, but, owing to the action, it was not filed. Because of its action in causing the Union Iron Works to fail to bid, the board yesterday instructed Secretary Ferris to notify the company that it would submit a bid lower than the lowest bid opened Monday it would be considered. This has given rise to an interesting situation, which in all likelihood will result in a readvertisement for bids.

NEW IMPROVEMENTS.
MUCH PAVING UNDER WAY.

Ordinances declaring notice of intention to improve streets and sidewalks, and extend sewers, have been passed by the City Council and are now in the hands of the City Engineer. The engineer, with nature of improvement and time for completion by contract, follow:

F street, West Ninth street to West Seventh street (Wilmington), curb, sidewalk, sixty days.

Bailey street, New Jersey street to Michigan avenue, sidewalk, fifty days.

Vermont avenue, Sixth street to Temple street, bituminous pavement, curb, sidewalk, gutter, storm drains, 140 days.

Third avenue, Washington street to Twenty-first street, curb, sidewalk, sixty days.

Harvard boulevard, Wilshire boulevard to Ninth street and other streets, pave with asphalt, gutter, curb, sidewalk, gutter, storm drains, seventy days.

Second street, Main street to Los Angeles street, pave with asphalt, curb, gutter, sidewalk, gutter, storm drains, sixty days.

Berendo street, Sixth street to Fourth street, sewer, 120 days.

Santa Monica boulevard, between Western avenue and North Park avenue, sewer, forty days.

Sunset and Hollywood boulevard, improved district, bituminous pavement, curb, gutter, sidewalk, storm drains, 150 days.

Sunset and Hollywood boulevard, sewer district, sewer, seventy days.

Sunset boulevard, between Normandie avenue and Vermont avenue, sewer, seventy days.

Sunset boulevard, between Normandie avenue and Commonwealth avenue, sewer, forty days.

Consider Roofing.
Headed by Secretary Zeehandelaar of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, a delegation waited upon the Board of Public Works yesterday to procure a change in specifications for roofing material on the municipal sheds at the harbor that would permit competition by local manufacturers. The Paraffine Paint Company was represented as was the John-Manville Roofing Company, whose product has been used. City Engineer Hamlin and Harbor Engineer Jubb told the board that the John-Manville product of asbestos roofing met the specifications and they were unwilling to accept any other brand which they considered inferior. The board took the matter under advisement.

City Hall Notes.
Protestants against the Hill-street tunnel assessment will meet with the City Council next Wednesday when a readjustment of the present assessment will be considered.

C. W. Bean yesterday addressed the Mayor as to why San Gabriel was not included in the territory proposed to be annexed. As a resident of that place, he asserts that there is a majority of the residents of San Gabriel in favor of annexation.

Tony Schaefer of Indianapolis, who used to drive a mule team on the great coast and Coachman John W. Snowden—that was thirty years ago—is visiting the Councilman and will pass the winter in Los Angeles.

Protest against the Stanford-avenue sewer were denied by the Council yesterday. The burden of the expense, the total of which will be about $1500, will be borne by several laundries and other business establishments, the present sewer being inadequate.

JUDGE COMMENTS ON DISAPPEARANCE OF COUPLE'S AGES.

Refusing Divorce Decree, the Court Philosophizes on Some Reasons Why Old Men and Young Women Wed—Model to Be Shown as Exhibit—Other Cases.

Judge Monroe disposed yesterday of the separate maintenance suit brought by Mrs. Laura E. Sheriff, and the divorce complaint of William J. Sheriff, a capitalist, by denying Sheriff a decree and giving Mrs. Sheriff $20 a month and the use of an apartment. Incidentally he commented strongly on the unequal ages of the two.

"I am not going to grant him a divorce," said Judge Monroe. "Mrs. Sheriff (his second wife and her third husband) went into the marriage with the old man as money speculation and did not see it through. He went into it because he was an old man and was getting a young woman, and he got the worst of it. I am glad of that. She is still his wife, and he must maintain an apartment for her."

The court said the suits ought never to have been brought. Sheriff's first wife died in January, 1911. He appeared to be about 40 years of age at the time he married her. She was 22 years of age when she married him. He was 22 years of age when she married him. He was 22 years of age when she married him.

"Of course, she knew he had property," said the court. "She knew a man of his age could not marry a woman 20 years younger unless he had property. He knew well enough he had to convince her of that before she would marry him. When a woman marries a man thirty years older than she is it may be an accident, but he always has money; it never occurs in any other way."

"Everything went swimmingly until they were married. Of course, she got tired of him. She probably never loved him, but she married him. After a while he got tired of her. Both made a bad bargain."

Although Sheriff had denied that he had deeded his wife property, the court found that he had done so, and will receive her community interest in it. An allegation in a supplemental complaint of misconduct on the part of Mrs. Carrie Sheriff, the sister-in-law, was declared to be without fact.

GRANTED DIVORCE.
HUSBAND'S DRINKING GROUND.

On the ground of habitual intemperance the part of her husband, Mrs. Letitia J. Baker, was granted a decree of divorce from Robert Emmett Lucas, special agent of the National Bureau of Investigation, by Judge Monroe yesterday. In a letter to the court Lucas denied that he drank to excess. John L. Kelly, a son of Mrs. Lucas by a former husband, testified that Lucas was intoxicated on the occasions he had seen him.

Mrs. Lucas alleged that when she married Lucas she had property worth $1000. Lucas had none. She permitted him to control her property and they have the title to a house and lot bought on the installment plan. By reason of his alleged profligacy the title to the property was neglected to provide for her.

By the decree of the court she gets exclusive use of the property and $10 a month for a year.

RIGHTS OF MINORS.
INSURANCE MONEY AND DEBTS.

The question whether insurance money can be used to pay a judgment where minors are concerned was taken under submission by Judge Houser yesterday in the case of the estate of E. C. Pillsbury. The minors are Ernest, Grace and Arthur. An uncle, Arthur C. Pillsbury, was appointed their guardian.

The children petitioned for an exemption of the homestead, worth $1000. This was allowed by the court. The exemption of $24,000 insurance money was submitted for thirty days. The final account of the children's estate was submitted to Trust Company, was confirmed, with the exception of an extra allowance for attorney's fees. Pillsbury and his wife were killed in an automobile accident. The case in which the judgment figured was tried before Pillsbury's death and entered after the accident.

MODEL AS EXHIBIT.
SWITCH TO BE IN COURT.

An elaborate model of the switch and the switch lights at Willow, where a Long Beach car crashed into a willow tree, was shown as an exhibit in the case of the Long Beach car being jammed against the controller, will be one of the exhibits of Lincoln's suit against the Pacific Electric Company now on trial in Judge Jackson's court. Lincoln asks for $30,000 damages.

The plaintiff alleges that as he followed the willow car, the signal light changed from red to green, and a clear main track, the willow car taking the switch. The switch, however, was not in position to show the red light, and during the trial a practical exhibition of the operation of the switch and lights will be made to show the impossibility of willow's showing when the switch is open.

ACCOUNTING SUIT. L. A. Pierce, Franklin Saunders and Fred Rife for themselves and other stockholders of the Los Angeles Submarine Boat Company filed an action for accounting against the company and E. S. Finney, J. W. Wood, Howard Young, G. M. Huff and S. J. Abrams yesterday. The complaint charges that the company to defraud the stockholders, the court is asked to enjoin the defendants from disposing of the property.

DAMAGE AWARDED. Emerson J. Donner was awarded $2500 damages in Judge Wood's court yesterday for the death of his son, a 21-year-old, his son, 21 years old, who was killed while a passenger on a Pacific Electric train at Thirty-seventh street. Suit has been brought for $20,000. The accident occurred as Donner made way for another passenger, his head coming in contact with a pole along the right of way.

ACRE CONDEMNED. A value of $120 was placed by Judge Weir yesterday on an acre of land at Chicago and Hamman streets, in the Belvidere school district, condemned by the board at the site of a new school building. The owner, W. Harrelson, asked $1000. The school district asked $1200. The board awarded $1100 for the new school.

FALSE PRETENSES CHARGED. The case against Louis Cory and J. P. Ford, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses under the guise of giving away lots near Lake El Estero, was continued this morning. The defendants endeavored to prove yesterday that the land scheme was a method of attracting money from their Mutual Benefit and Loan Society, and that the lots were worth $1250, the amount asked of the persons who were the supposedly lucky ones in an alleged drawing, whereby some obtained the lots upon payment of filing fees.

FOR SON'S DEATH. Nicola Demare was awarded $500 damages in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday in his suit against the Santa Fe Railroad for the death of his son, Guido, who was killed by a train at Main and Palmetto streets on May 7 last. Suit had been brought for $20,000.

CONVICTED. Luz Alvarez was found guilty of murder in the second degree in Judge Craig's court yesterday. The evidence tended to show that the defendant and several other Mexicans were drinking together at No. 1345 Willow street. Alvarez became enraged over some trifling dispute and began to stab right and left. One of the victims died and his prosecution followed.

BOGUS CHECK CASE. Bruce R. Conger appeared before Judge Willis yesterday on a bogus check charge. He said the check was cashed in several insane asylums and that he is subject to delusions. The case was continued to get more information concerning him.

MUST SUPPORT FAMILY. W. H. Chubb was fined four days by Judge Willis yesterday in which to file a $1000 bond to insure his future maintenance of $100 a month to his wife. He was found guilty of failure to provide for his family.

LYMAN HAD NO LAND, HE SAYS.

WITNESS TELLS OF CLAIMS OF DEVELOPMENT COMPANY.

Soil Expert Declares "Colony" at Agua Dulce Consisted of One Man. Ex-Federal Officer Asserts Pictures in Company's Literature Were Misleading.

The first real evidence in the trial of Dr. John Grant Lyman, bearing on the actual character of the land in Panama, that it was sought to sell, was brought out in the United States District Court yesterday.

Thomas H. Sisley, a soil expert of Los Molinos, Cal., who was on the lookout for just such a bargain as the Panama Development Company offered, was the important witness.

Sisley testified that he traveled all over the republic in July and August, 1911, and that he saw no railroad or any preparation for one, either at the city of Panama or the city of Darien. There was no sugar mill at Agua Dulce, he said, or any material for one, and the "American colony" at Agua Dulce consisted of one man, so far as he was able to see.

Asked as to what he had found out about the Panama Development Company having an option or agreement with President Dr. Pablo Arce-mena of Panama, for the sale of government lands, Sisley said that so far as he knew, there was no such agreement. The answer was ruled out on a technical ground, but the question will come up later in another form.

The testimony of Charles M. Brown, an ex-Federal officer, who had been in Panama for ten years, was damaging to the defense. Brown had been in all of the provinces covered by the Panama Development Company's prospectus, and his evidence, in brief, was as follows:

The pictures of the timber in the Lyman literature appeared in the North American. Lymanerman two years ago, and represented growth in Darien, hundreds of miles from the so-called Lyman holdings; the land in Agua Dulce, Cocle, Chiriqui and Veraguas provinces was red soil and hardpan; the shores were lined with mangrove salt marshes, where good sugar land was supposed to exist; there was no railroad station in Agua Dulce, no projected railway at the city of Panama, or the city of Darien; the most of the land was in the character, and in 1911 could not be secured from the government by anybody.

The witness said he had made an examination of the records in the towns where the Panama Development Company lands were alleged to be, and he could not find any evidence that the Panama Development Company, Dr. John Grant Lyman or President Dr. Arce-mena, had ever made an application for land of any description.

The testimony of Brown indicated that the land supposed to be involved in the alleged concession was worthless from any point of view, except for grazing purposes, and at the time the representations were made by Lyman, could not be secured by deed. Brown is now engaged in selling plantations in the city of Panama.

CHECK WORTHLESS, ARRESTED.
Lara Cluff, who says his father is a druggist in Moss, Ariz., came into town on a freight train yesterday and subsequently presented a check for $10 at a downtown store, where he purchased a suit of clothing. The check was worthless and Cluff was arrested by a Nick Harris detective. The young man says his uncle, George J. McDonald, is a treasurer of Maricopa county, Arizona. He is held at Central Police Station.

PURSE SNATCHER CAUGHT.
Mrs. L. Christy of Des Moines, Iowa, was walking along Hope street, between Seventh and Eighth streets last night, when a stranger came up behind her and snatched her purse, containing $10. Cluff was a private detective, witnessed the robbery from across the street, and in the ensuing chase he proved the better man. At Central Police Station the latter did not deny his guilt. He says he is Harry Sheppard, 31 years old, and from Denver.

GRAVE OFFENSE CHARGED.
A statutory case against Ivan Bray, David Burkell and Dan Phyl of Santa Monica will be heard behind closed doors in Justice Summerfield's court this morning. The complaining witness is Gladys Hyde of Santa Monica.
